Overlook

During this last week, we all made script files with either python or bash that could help our project. I thought it would be interesting to see the possibility to get a resume or log of the last 24 hours every day at lets say midnight EST (UCT-5)

A problem has been encountered

It seems that CheckMK can detect my virtual machines other than my host, but the problem occurs when it does not want to show any of the data. It could be a problem that occurs on VMWare (The Hypervisor I am using) that does not happen on VirtualBox. We will fix this on a later date, for now script time.

Logging Script

I'm too tired I might do something in the morning.

Look at the GitHub if I made changes maybe.
Have a good day Thumbs Up!
